

WHAT IS CLAIMED IS:

1. A metal sheet pressing method of precision-pressing a metal sheet, wherein after a metal sheet is partially drawn so as to form a perforated portion, the perforated portion is heated by baking and after it is heated by baking, the perforated portion is pressed with press dies into an uneven-surface shape.

2. A metal sheet pressing method according to claim 1, wherein the perforated portion of the metal sheet is formed in a mesh shape.